SymposiumTuesday, 8 May 2012

The 5th DVFA Life Science Symposium focuses on the issue of how to fund the growing demand for healthcare services and products in the wake of the aging population and the sovereign debt crisis. The growing funding shortfall is acting as a catalyst for necessary structural changes in healthcare and for Healthcare Services Providers & Suppliers. Innovative strategies and affordable products are needed in all areas of healthcare in order to increase efficiency, effectiveness and quality. The care of chronically sick and multimorbid patients represents a formidable challenge to the present system.
